

5 Online Things University Educators can do now for their Students' Employability

1 Get students using the digital tools they are likely to use in their careers.	2 Encourage students to publish / contribute / profile their work online.
Examples Accounting → Microsoft Excel Journalism → Social Media  	Examples Persuasive essays as Blog Posts Articles on LinkedIn
3 Support students to build their industry networks.	4 Provide tools to connect-the-dots between assessment and employability.
Examples Set the task of curating leading experts and expertise Teach students how to reach-out and connect  	Example iASK (identity, Attributes, Skills & Knowledge) https://works.bepress.com/shelley_kinash/259/
5 Invite alumni to share their career stories.
Examples As guests on discussion forums Through Zoom careers showcase

Office for the Advancement of Learning and Teaching

@ oalt@usq.edu.au
 07 4631 1600
 usq.edu.au/learning-teaching

Make an appointment with the USQ Careers & Employability team

@ careers@usq.edu.au
 07 4631 2372
 usq.edu.au/careers

